FOCA adds its voice to beach dispute

The ongoing dispute over the right of the public to use Ingoldsby Beach has taken on a new twist now that Ontario's cottagers' federation is lending its support to Roderick Mens.

Jean Anthon, President of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations, told Anson, Hindon and Minden Council last Thursday that this small community beach is, for a variety of reasons, inadequate.

"This site does not seem large enough to contain the current demand," Anthon said at Thursday's council meeting. "Also, there appears to be a major concern for safety with children having to travel close to, or on the county road, to reach their automobile." She also claimed that there is potential for pollution of the lake since there are no washrooms on the site. Having a beach on the site also means residents have to put up with traffic, noise, litter and trespassing, she said.

Ingoldsby Beach is located on Lake Kashagawigamog, directly across County Road 18 from Mens' cottage. The beach is located on a road allowance owned by the municipality.

Mens, who also addressed council Thursday, said the use of this beach has been increasing over the past two summers. "This year on a warm Sunday in July, about 100 people bathed, up to 45 at one time, while up to 14 vehicles were parked parallel to the road at the south end of Pine Point, about half of them with two wheels on the asphalt."

He said the small bathing area is becoming much more than a community beach. "This obviously, is not a low profile, minor swim area by up to six persons at one time as Reeve (Sinc) Nesbitt and Councillor (Verne) Graham indicated in May 1987."

In their attempts to encourage council to act in their favour, both Mens and Anthon warned that this area's economy is reliant on cottagers.

Minden has new postmaster

After almost two years Minden once again has its own Postmaster.

Dorian Malloy moved from Bracebridge in mid-July to accept the position that has been vacant since Dorothy Rowe retired in December of 1986. During that time there have been three Acting Postmasters.

Malloy is originally from Stouffville. He worked at the Post Office there for more than eight years transferring to Pene-tanguishene. He worked in Penetanguishene for slightly more than one year before again transferring to Bracebridge, where he spent the past four years.

Malloy says the job of a Postmaster is generally "to make sure it all happens." He is in charge of the office and staff and is responsible for the banking and upkeep of financial records. And since Minden

Snowdon clerk retires

Geoff Wynne, one of the longest serving municipal clerks in Haliburton County, finished up his final few days at the Snowdon Township office last week.

Wynne, 60, has served for the past 15 years as Snowdon's clerk. Friday was his final day on the job, as he and his wife, Marjorie, plan to move to Whitby for what he says will be semi-retirement.

"I'm just going to take it easy for a while," says Wynne. As far as future plans, he says he's going to "play it by ear."

Wynne, who is originally from Scarborough, moved to Snowdon Township in 1968, when he bought the general store in Lochlin. His interest in municipal politics caused him to seek election to council, and in 1973 he served a one-year term as councillor.

Snowdon's population has more than doubled since Wynne started.

In 1974, the township's population had grown to the point where it was necessary to have a Deputy Reeve, who would sit on both township and county council. Wynne was elected to the position, thus becoming Snowdon's first Deputy Reeve.

He only served for part of that term, though. Sid Jennings, who was the clerk at that time, announced his retirement and Wynne applied for the job.

One of the unique aspects of Wynne's career as both a member of council and as municipal clerk is that he has always been working with the same Reeve. Bob Vick has been Snowdon Township's Reeve for the past 20 years, and a good working relationship has developed Snowdon Township's clerk Geoff Wynne has retired after fifteen years on the job. Interestingly, he has served all of those years with the same Reeve, Bob Vick.

over those years between him and Wynne.

"We've had disagreements," Wynne said of his relationship with Vick. "You have to have disagreements, but we're still good friends."

Together, Vick and Wynne have watched the municipality grow at a gradual but steady pace. The township's population in 1973 was about 400. The most recent census indicates that the permanent population (excluding seasonal residents) is now 725.

Although Wynne's first allegiance is obviously with the township, he says it is important for people to think of the county as a whole. Generally speaking, what is good for Haliburton is good for each of the municipalities.

Yet, in spite of his county vision, Wynne is not in favour of recent suggestions that certain municipalities amalgamate. In some aspects, he can understand the desire to expand county council's functions. "There are certain services that should be county controlled," he said. The obvious service is that of waste management which is of concern to each municipality in Haliburton. However, he opposes an overall amalgamation or creation of Regional Government.

In recent months, some members of county council have suggested that the county could be made stronger if there were fewer municipalities. Although these county councillors are quick to say they are opposed to Regional Government in Haliburton, Wynne says that is According to Mens, 44 per cent of the municipality's taxes are collected from seasonal residents. Only 28 per cent comes from permanent residents, he said.

Anthony warned that council is setting a dangerous precedent if it allows for a parking lot to be developed on this piece of shoreline. "The development of a parking lot would remove a shoreline resident's traditional access and view to the lake. This is a cottager who has been in seasonal residence for many, many years. The precedence established by this development would alarm all current and future shoreline residents. As the number one industry of Haliburton County, cottaging must be treated with fairness and sensitivity to alleviate that alarm."

As a solution to the problems at Ingoldsby Beach, they suggested that the municipality initiate a study to locate a more appropriate spot for a beach. Mens had contacted MPP John Eakins last year with a request for provincial funding to cover 75 per cent of the cost of a study. However, Eakins replied that, until an application is submitted from the municipality, nothing can be done.

When asked by councillor Royce Miller, Mens said he can think of two or three other locations on the lake that might make good public swim areas. However, John Magwood, a neighbour, later told council that these locations are in Dysart Township.

Reeve Nesbitt replied that this council has no authority to carry out a study of properties in Dysart. He also noted that, even if another swimming area was created, Ingoldsby Beach would continue to be open to the public. "If 10 buses drove up from Toronto, they would have the right to use the access ... as long as they don't park on the pavement."

Opening up another site cures nothing, said Nesbitt. Ingoldsby Beach is public property and people can use it whether or not there is an alternate site.

is a relatively small office, Malloy says he also helps out on the floor sorting mail.

In addition to his responsibilities at the Minden Post Office, Malloy also oversees operations at Kinmount, Gooderham, Irondale and Carnarvon. He says his responsibility with these offices is basically to be available if they are having any problems and to do the annual audit.

Malloy and his wife Norine are living right in the Village of Minden. They have two children, aged two and four. Although they are new residents, they are not unfamiliar with the area. His parents have a cottage on Lake St. Nora and the family has been coming to the area for years.

During the summer, Malloy enjoys golfing, sailing, skiing and windsurfing. His favourite winter recreation is snowmobiling and he says he is looking forward to trying out all the trails in Haliburton County.

After a two year lapse, Minden finally has a permanent postmaster, Dorian Malloy. Malloy transferred to this area in mid-July from Bracebridge.

exactly what the county will be slipping toward if amalgamation plans become a reality.

But that's all water under the bridge for Wynne. Now that he is retired he can sit back and relax. And thanks to his friends on township council, he will be able to relax in comfort. As a going away present, Wynne received a rocker-recliner at a special party held in his honour on August 22.

Reflecting on his experience as a municipal clerk, Wynne says he enjoyed the years and found most people easy to get along with. "Over the years I've found most people are reasonable when you explain things to them." He says he has always enjoyed dealing with people, and cautions that anyone taking this sort of job has to have a sense of humour. "I've always enjoyed a good working relationship with council and the tax payers."

For want of water

A very delicate issue has again resurfaced with the most recent debate over what and shouldn't be happening at the little piece of lakefront property often referred to as Ingoldsby Beach.

This time though, it is encouraging to see constructive recommendation resulting from the conflict.

Roderick Mens, who believes that people are trespassing on his property in order to use the beach area, has suggested that a comprehensive study be conducted to locate waterfront areas that could be developed for public use.

We are not in favour of his suggestion that provincial funding for a study should be sought, since that would likely mean the hiring of consultants, time wasted and money squandered. However, we do agree that council and the parks department should be looking to develop proper shoreline parks.

People living in the Village of Minden are fortunate to have an excellent facility at hand just over at Rotary Park. However, there are many people living outside the village who would appreciate a similar facility in their area of the municipality.

The tremendous increase in use of Ingoldsby Beach is a good indication that people will use the facilities if they are made available. The goal now is to do whatever possible to open up public parks on the water.

Return of the prodigal son

Prodigals are never easy to live with, especially if they're your own children. They are never easy to live without, either ...

directions

by Edward Moll

The story Jesus told is not just print on a page. It is the living hell of a violently disturbed teenager wreaking havoc in a home. It is the pain of calling the police to take him away because of threats against your life and a father's broken-hearted curse of "Good riddance."

But it never really is good, is it?

Your daughter marries, too young, to a man just barely out of his teens. She says she loves him and that he can't live without her. Her visits to you are fewer, and you notice the dark circles under her eyes, the bruises on her arms, the child too quiet, or constantly crying. You want to ask what's wrong, but you don't because you're afraid she may tell the truth.

The old habits of insecurity are so hard to break, aren't they? From generation to generation they go on.

When Luke's old familiar story is read or heard, we think it about the wasteful son, or the hardworking one, or the father's incredible, wasteful love and finally how great God's love is. It is about all that, and more. This is a story about hope, when there is absolutely no reason whatsoever to hope.

Consider that the attitude and spending habits of the prodigal probably did not appear out of nowhere after he left home. His older brother thought him insufferable. His father would barely tolerate him, his mother wringing her hands at night wondering "What will become of him?"

The jerk leaves home. The older brother says "Good riddance". Maybe the father says it, too. Be he says it, if at all, with a catch in the throat, and a skip of the heart.

And then ...

The prodigal returns, months, years maybe? No phone call, no postcard, not even really sorry for his behaviour.

Nevertheless, he returns home, because home, after all is said and done, is where they have to take you in.

He expects rejection

He receives love

He expects the worker's shed

He gets his father's arms around "My son, My son, you're home, thank God!"

Now if that isn't a hope filled story, I don't know what is.

Australian men cuddly and fearless

Let us pause for a moment's respectful silence on behalf of Australian manhood. The second shoe has dropped.

The first shoe was a dusty cowboy boot and it covered the foot of a character called Crocodile Dundee. You remember Crocodile ... a lean and rangy chap with an easy going smile and a pocket knife big enough to shishebab a killer whale on.

Actor Paul Hogan portrayed the wily outbacker in two movies that injected hundreds of millions of dollkars into the Australian economy and put the land Down Under on the map. Now, everybody in the whole world knows what Australian men are like. They're cuddly, they're fearless, they wear hats festooned with Crocodile teeth and they get the girl in the end.

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

Nope. That's what I meant about the other shoe dropping. Psychologists, writers and other surveyors of the passing scene are now emerging from the woodwork to tell the world that Crocodile Dundee is a myth.

"Australian males may think themselves tough, wily and worldly like Dundee" says Australian writer Berwyn Lewis, "but most are benignly adolescent ... products of a country that has never suffered a revolution, a civil war or a saturation bombing to really test its manhood."

Whatever you think of his yardsticks for masculinity, the man has a point. Australian males are living dangerously over the mythological line. They may see themselves as barehanded jungle croc wrestlers, but 8 out of ten Australians live safely under the streetlights in large cities clustered along the country's coastline. Most of them go home to ranch-style bungalows on postage stamp lots in suburbs. They bring home paycheques from white collar, soft-pinkie jobs in sales-related service industries. A majority of them couldn't tell a wild crocodile from John Crosbie. The most dangerous thing your average Aussie faces is a beer cap scrape from his Fosters Lager or a flash burn from the "barbie".

Aussies aren't the only ones to dress up their image

But Australian men aren't the only ones who like to dress up their mental image. I had a couple of hours to kill in Cleveland one time and the only movie house I could find was showing Rambo (I forget which number, but it doesn't really matter). On the screen, Rambo had just destroyed two regiments of crack enemy troops which prompted a blood-curdling cheer from the throats of a dozen cinema patrons seated behind me. I turned around fearfully, expecting to see a couple of rows of neolithic bikers in tattoos, torn T shirts and chains.

What did I see?

Geeks. Nerds. Skinny little guys with pasty faces and pencil necks, receding hairlines and coke-bottle specs.

These were the Americans that were identifying with the superhuman muscle-popping Rambo persona up on the screen - goofy, slope-shoulder misfits with sunken chests and pot bellies who'd come down with angina attacks if they trotted up a flight of stairs. Unathletic guys. Unaggressive guys. Guys like...

Well, you and me, I guess.

Which brings it home to Canada. We Canucks have our mythological male too. He doesn't pack a broadsword-sized hunting knife like Crocodile Dundee and he's not much for state of the art machine guns like Rambo, but he's pretty good with an axe, as long as he faces nothing more hostile than a jackpine. Give him a birchbark canoe and a good stretch of white water and he'll make that paddle sing.

Ah yes, the famous Canadian lumberjack. I confess, I've done my bit to spread the myth. Last winter in Georgia over a mint julep or two I entertained some locals with stories of a typical Canadian lumberjack's life. I told them about our annual bare-back moose riding festivals and the polar bear wrestling contests. I believe I even sang a verse or two of "Rose Marie". Just got a card from them - they're coming up for a visit next month. They hope I can take them fishing "for some of those twelve-foot muskies y'all told us about".

Let's see now ... a canoe is the one with two pointy ends, right?

Twelve to be honoured

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

A number of interesting items recently crossed my desk and I want to share them with you.

The Ontario Office for Disabled Persons will honour 12 Ontario residents who are disabled or who work on behalf of disabled persons at a presentation ceremony in November. This recognition is called the Community Action Awards and I would like to make the people in Victoria - Haliburton aware of the opportunity.

The outstanding achievements of six disabled individuals who have made a significant contribution to the province and six individuals, disabled or not, who have extensive involvement with disabled persons, will be recognized.

Nominations for the 1988 Community Action Awards are now being sought and the closing date is September 30, 1988. If anyone is interested in obtaining a nomination form, please contact my constituency office in Lindsay at 324-6654.

An impartial selection committee will choose the finalists. The committee will be looking for those people who have made a remarkable contribution to their community and have increased public awareness of just how much disabled persons can and do achieve. Nominations can be made by individuals or community organizations and all award recipients must be residents of Ontario.

On a different subject, the very first Ontario air travel map has just been published.

Called "See Ontario By Air", the map is designed for the air traveller, including the private aircraft owner and operator. It has been produced to encourage these potential tourists to take advantage of the many provincial attractions which can be reached by air.

Designed and funded by the Ministry of Transportation, the map identifies 112 public-use airports and water aerodromes in the province. It also pinpoints tourist attractions near these facilities and colour-coded symbols are used for easy reference. The map is available free from the Ministry of Transportation office, East Building, 1201 Wilson Avenue, Downsview, Ontario M3M 1J8, Telephone: (416) 235-4339.

Province helps recreation

Twenty municipalities in Victoria and Haliburton Counties will share $121,374 in provincial funding to assist in the delivery of recreation programs, MPP John Eakins has announced.

"Quality leisure time is important to the people of Victoria and Haliburton Counties and this funding will enable a lot of people to participate in a variety of recreational activities," Eakins says.

Eighteen of the municipalities will receive $6,000 to help carry out recreational programs during the 1988-89 fiscal year. Two of the municipalities, the Town of Lindsay and the Township of Mariposa, will each receive $6,687. Eakins made the announcement on behalf of Hugh P. O'Neil, Minister of Tourism and Recreation.

In 1987, 860 municipalities, local service boards, improvement districts, unorganized territories and Indian Band Councils received financial assistance for recreation programs. Those municipalities in Victoria - Haliburton which will receive $6,000 in funding are: the Villages of Omamee, Fenelon Falls, Woodville and Bobcaygeon and the Townships of Cardiff, Monmouth, Bicroft, Bexley, Stanhope, Carden, Dalton, Eldon, Emily, Somerville, Fenelon, Ops and Laxton, Digby and Longford and Anson, Hindon and Minden.

New owner has done it all

From general helper to General Manager, Phil Cass has done it all in the restaurant business. And now, with his recent purchase of the former Hollow Valley in Carnarvon he is a restaurant owner.

The restaurant, located just off Highway 35 on Highway 118, is now known as Phil's Roadhouse. Cass and his wife Jocelyn officially took over the operation on August 23.

Cass has been involved in the restaurant business for many years now. He started out as general labour at the Dorset location of Hollow Valley and worked his way up to manager within six years. Last summer he worked as the manager of Cedar Narrows Restaurant in Dorset, and in the winter he was the assistant manager of a new Mother's Restaurant in Huntsville.

"I enjoyed the restaurant business so much that I decided to get into it myself," he says. He bought the business from Kel and Jay Stone and has begun carving it into his own restaurant.

Cass does not plan to make any drastic changes to the restaurant in the near future. He plans to keep the same sort of menu that made the restaurant popular in the past. "We'll try to appeal to the casual diner and keep our prices reasonable. There will continue to be a variety of lunch and dinner specials to entice the customers.

Cass, along with his wife and two children are in the process of moving from Dorset to Carnarvon. He says he is really looking forward to serving the people and becoming a part of the community.

The former Hollow Valley Restaurant in Carnarvon is now called 'Phil's Roadhouse' and is owned and operated by Phil Cass. From the left, Wes Kerr, Alice Marchene, Jim Packard and Cass.

Skies clear for roast

The rain clouds which had been hovering all day finally dispersed, leaving a half-rainbow as a token of goodwill, as the Soyers Lake ratepayers gathered for their thirteenth annual corn roast on Saturday evening at Lakeview Lodge flats. The day's events were organized by members of the executive and masterminded by President Lew McCorriston.

Earlier in the day the rain had held off just long enough for the sailing regatta to take place. Although only four sailboats and one windsurfer showed up this year, enthusiasm was high amongst the competitors. Winners in the Laser and Catamaran class were: First - Catamaran captained by Bernard Bellis; second - Laser with Chris Robertson and Mark Stevenson. In the second category, first prize was won by Bruce Ogg and Harry Cameron in a Flying Junior, and the runners-up were Janette Lear and Mack Lear sailing a Kolikri. The lone windsurfer, Gareth Bellis, turned in a creditable performance to carry off all the prizes. Thanks went to Ross Partridge for organizing these events.

The corn roast was attended by 130 ratepayers, friends and family members. Neale Harris and Elizabeth Turner welcomed members and noted the attendance. The evening began with children's races, imaginatively devised and organized by Doug Lear. Some 20 children competed for the prizes and joined in the relay races. The youngest was a two-year-old girl who showed great concentration in successfully carrying her spoonful of water to fill a cup and help her team to victory. Another relay race involved tossing a tennis ball between pairs of players spaced at ever-increasing intervals. There were running races and a three-legged race, and a backwards-running race in which solicitous parents trotted backward trying to show their children how to do it and ended up being left behind, much to the amusement of the onlookers. It was all great fun and Doug Lear won many compliments for his initiative.

The corn roast was all that a corn roast should be. The atmosphere was alive with jovial greetings between old friends and welcoming smiles for newcomers. There was a roaring wood fire and steaming tubs of corn, the barbecue with serried ranks of roasted wieners (and a second barbecue to keep the waiting hot dogs warm), and the inviting plaid-covered tables with neat rows of condiments lined up like soldiers ready for the hungry hordes. And the corn - ah! - sweet, tender and delicious - the best-tasting peaches-and-cream ever. Bill McCorriston and Laurie Cameron bargained hard for it with a farmer in Ballantrae who wanted to sell it for a higher price in Toronto, but they cajoled him out of the idea. Ross Partridge cooked it to perfection. Elizabeth Turner was responsible for searching out the tastiest wieners on the market, and they were most carefully barbecued by Bob Thompson and Mike Turner. Soft drinks were provided for the thirsty, and to finish off the feast there were marshmallows to be roasted by the children and all who are young at heart.

No detail was overlooked by the organizers. Someone even placed a row of survey poles, relics of a bygone era, to mark the path to "the little house on the hill".

As a silvery half-moon shone down on the evening mist mantling the lake, the warmth of the glowing campfire kindled renewed sparks of fellowship which found expression in a song led by Sue Robertson and David Pengelly. Old favourites mingled with new songs symbolized the mixture of all age groups brought together in a spirit of companionship on this happy occasion at Soyers Lake.

Council to send plaque

The group of local residents travelling to Minden Germany next month will be carrying official greetings from the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

In recognition that this is the largest group from our community to visit the village's namesake in Germany, the municipal council has provided a plaque for presentation to Minden City officials. The plaque, made by Hugh Lester carries the coat of arms of Canada and Ontario, along with cast figures of animals representative of this area. The plaque bears the inscription,

"Canada-Minden-Germany. To be able to share friendship across the seas is an honour and a privilege. September 1988." The gift, to be presented at an official reception, was prepared with the assistance of Highlands Jewellery.

The tour to Minden Germany was organized by The Times and Town and Country Travel Consultants, and their Minden representative Cub Coneybeare. 46 individuals with ties to this community will be representing Minden on the tour. The two week visit includes a four day visit in Minden, Germany, followed by a tour of other European cities. The group leaves September 23.

The plaque the group will be taking with them is on display in the window of Coneybeare's Butcher Shop in downtown Minden.

Work is progressing at a gradual pace on the new Staunworth Senior Citizen's complex. Municipal building inspector Brad Bradamore has told council that he is keeping a close watch on the construction crews and materials as this new complex evolves.

project entitled "Keeping them Involved". This project will celebrate our participation in Actifest '88 (Ontario Senior Games Provincial finals held in Brampton August 29, 30 and 31) and plan for the future. It will bring together those who were winners of our district games and represented the county at Brampton, conveners of the local games and potential executive members. This day of celebration will be held in October and the day will be used to discuss our strengths and accomplishments over the past five years and to develop new leaders. To continue in Ontario Senior Games, we must find new leaders to replace our five year executive who desire to move on to other fields. The conveners and winning participants must be challenged to organize and carry on the summer and winter games that have been so successful and are expanding to District 11. The continuation of the senior games will ensure active involvement in physical and recreational activities. These games provide an opportunity for social interaction on a county-wide base for our seniors. The overall goal is to improve the sense of "well being" for the seniors by "Keeping them Involved!" This grant will ensure that Haliburton will be able to continue senior games in the future.

Pontoon boats need same safety equipment

The 1988 boating season has seen a large number of Pontoon boats plying the waters of Haliburton County. Many operators are surprised to find that Pontoon boats require the same safety equipment as speed boats, ski boats, fishing boats and canoes.

OPP Constable Mike Legge, a marine instructor for the Ontario Provincial Police, advises all boats require a certified life jacket or personal flotation device for each person on board, two paddles or oars with oar locks, bailing bucket or bilge pump and a whistle or horn.

If the motor size is 10 h.p. or greater a licence for the vessel is required, and if any boat or canoe is operated after dark, some form of lighting is required under the Collision Regulations of the Canada Shipping Act. Check the Canada Safe Boating Guide for the lighting required on your boat.

A second surprise greeting Pontoon boat operators and others is that they can not, nor can any occupant of the boat, consume alcohol or beer on the boat. There are only two legal places to consume alcohol in the Province of Ontario. One is under a licence, for example a hotel, tavern restaurant or special occasion permit.

The other is at a residence, any residence. A boat is a residence when it has fixed sleeping accommodations, fixed washroom facilities, fixed cooking facilities and the boat is moored or anchored.

In other words, you cannot put a barbecue, sleeping bags and a portapotti on a Pontoon boat and have a party.

Boating Safety Guides are available, free of charge at Ontario Provincial Police detachments. If you have a question, stop in.

COMING SOON

We will soon be able to provide anti-freeze recycling service. It is expected this year the cost of anti-freeze will go up dramatically and there could be shortages. We can ensure your vehicle is properly protected, by reclaiming the anti-freeze currently in your cooling system.

Buses roll next week

by Doreen Hawman

In less than two weeks the school buses will be back on the roads. School commences September 6, the day after Labour Day.

As a motorist: Extra care should be taken when you see a school bus approaching. Always remember that if the bus flashes its red lights, all traffic in both directions must stop. On a multi-lane highway with a median strip - only cars behind must stop. Failure to stop carries a fine of $100 to $500 for a first offence; each subsequent offence, a fine of $250 to $1000, or imprisonment for up to six months or both and an assessment of six demerit points.

As a parent: Remind your children to be very careful when getting off the bus, to always watch for moving traffic when crossing the road. Children should be reminded of the safety rules they were taught at school and to be on their best behaviour when riding on the bus. It is important that they remain seated until it is time to leave the bus. A few moments spent briefing your child could be the difference between life and death.

To receive a brochure dealing with Ontario School Bus Stopping Laws, drop in to the Haliburton County Information Centre situated in the Drag River Municipal building, Maple Ave., Haliburton. Open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 457-2733. Our centre in the Municipal Building, Milne St., Minden, is open every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 286-4100.

Skaters kept busy all summer

submitted

The Skating season is not far away for our skaters but some have kept busy this summer attending summer school at Whitby and Woodville.

They are Lisa Carr and Andrea Pawluch. Andrea has also competed at the Niagara Stamford Competition where she placed fifth in the Preliminary Ladies Free Skate, also she competed at the Minto Summer Skate where she placed third in the Preliminary Ladies event. Both Lisa and Andrea competed at the Thornhill Summer Skate Competition and both girls skated really well.

On Friday, September 30 at the Peterborough Memorial Centre they are hosting "Champions On Ice". This has skaters like Brian Orser, Tracy Wilson, Rob McCall and many other of Canada's skaters who participated at the 1988 Olympics and the World competition. Two of our local skaters, Cori Barkwell and Lisa Carr will be performing also with these great stars. Tickets for $14.00 are available. If anyone is interested they can get in touch with Leitha Grexton.

Also the Club is getting ready for the '88 - '89 season. There will be registration at the Municipal Hall in Minden Wednesday, September 14 from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and also on Tuesday, September 27 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. There will also be a skate exchange those nights if anyone is interested.

Lisa McCloskey recently graduated from Sir Sandford Fleming College with a Diploma in Nursing. She is currently working as a Registered Nurse at University Hospital in London, Ontario on a paediatric unit. She is the daughter of Angela Strauss of Millbrook and the granddaughter of Florence and Joseph Dollo of Minden.

Cut $100
off the price of a Toro.

Now you can save $100 on all Toro lawn mowers with the latest in safety features: the zone start or the blade brake clutch. The zone start keeps your hands and feet away from the blade when starting the mower. The blade brake clutch lets you stop the blade, but keep the engine running.

All of these mowers are built Toro tough right here in Canada and come with a two year warranty. But you better hurry in. Before this offer is cut short.

Haven't you done without a Toro long enough?

Deer herd doubled

Ontario's white-tailed deer population has more than doubled since 1980 to a herd estimated at about a quarter of a million animals. The Ministry of Natural Resources' manager strategy is to hold deer densities at levels just below the carrying capacity of the area inhabited by deer.

As a result of the expanding deer herd viewing and hunting opportunities have both increased dramatically. The ministry manages deer by a system of quotas. Ontario is divided into a number of wildlife management units. Each year biologists determine how many deer should be harvested from a unit to maintain the population at the required level. Hunting seasons are established and hunter numbers are controlled according to the quotas determined for each management unit.

"The forest only supplies food and shelter to sustain a specific number of deer," explains Mike Wilton, Algonquin Regional Eildlife biologist in Huntsville.

"The real bottleneck is during the winter. Deer move into traditional deer yards, or shelter areas every winter. Because of the yarding instinct, deer are concentrated into a small area, and the food and shelter become critical."

A deer needs about a bushel basket of browse each day in order to survive. Browse consists of buds from the tips of branches of maple and other hardwoods, or conifers (evergreens) such as cedar.

"Deer can reach only five to six feet off the ground, even standing on their hind legs.

IS YOUR PROPANE REFRIGERATOR A POTENTIAL KILLER?

Nobody in their right mind would keep a life-threatening appliance in their home. Yet, thousands of people have propane refrigerators that can produce deadly amounts of carbon monoxide if they're not properly vented and cleaned.

Every year in Ontario an average of three fatalities result from the use of unserviced propane refrigerators. Several more people require hospitalization for carbon monoxide poisoning.

To eliminate the risk, remove your propane refrigerator to an outdoor shelter or buy a new refrigerator, which is now required to be vented outdoors, like those used in recreational vehicles and mobile homes.

We also advise you to have the refrigerator cleaned and serviced regularly, especially before start up and every time it's moved. That way, rust, scale, insects or anything that's blocking the combustion system will be removed.

For answers to your questions or to obtain a do-it-yourself booklet on servicing, call the Fuels Safety Branch at (416) 234-6046, or write:

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

senior league

by Pearl Lyle

Dear Readers:

Here I am again! Thought I wouldn't be sending any more, but it didn't come through.

Winnie Barnum visited with her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron of Peterborough for three days last week and attended the wedding of her great nephew Larry Yateman to Freda Lane on Saturday, August 20th.

The staff of the Minden Times had their annual picnic on Tuesday afternoon. I was pleased they included me and it was a really enjoyable time.

The Residents of Hyland Crest would like to say a big thank you to all the people who worked so hard to make the Barn Dance such a success for our bus fund. We appreciate the support the Community is giving us in our drive for a new bus. Thanks so much for the donation.

We are also making another cookbook of our favourite recipes; it should be available by Christmas. All proceeds will also go toward our bus fund. If you are looking for a special gift for someone, our cookbook will be on sale in the near future.

We at Hyland Crest extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of Mrs. Christena Precor who passed away recently. She is greatly missed here. "What a pleasant world this would be if the things we kick at wouldn't kick back."

Bye for now.

It is never too soon to begin planning for your next big road vacation and for those that are feeling the urge to head out, we have just the thing ... a complete set of road maps for all of the Province of Canada and U.S. States.

Whether you need to know the shortest route from Tory Hill to Azusa, California or how to shave a mile or three off the road to Florida ... or even to find a new road, then we can help.

Lots of inset maps, distances and everything else that you will ever need to know make those plans.

And this information is all available through the Haliburton County Public Library; if we haven't got it, we can get it for you!

For the first time since July 5, the average levels of the Haliburton area lakes exceeded those of 1987.

At 56.0 per cent on Monday, August 15 the levels were about 1.5 per cent higher than in 1987. This is probably a result of the rains, which hit the area over the past week, especially Sunday night, August 14.

These levels are still about 12.7 per cent lower than the 10-year average.

Kawartha lakes levels were at about midrange most of this week with a gradual decline occurring. Minimum outflows down the Otonabee River continued with only a small increase for a few days due to increased evaporative losses below Peterborough.
